

INDIAN, CRAZED WITH DRINK, SLAYS WIFE, SON, GRANDPARENT WITH AXE

MILLE LACS INDIAN JAILED FOR TRIPLE MURDER IN HIS HOME

BODIES OF WIFE AND GRANDPARENT FOUND NEAR DOOR, CHILD IN BEDROOM

VICTIMS OF AXE ATTACK CARRIED DEEP CUTS IN HEADS AND SHOULDERS

Taylor Hanks, 35, an Indian on the Mille Lacs reservation, was under guard at the Mille Lacs jail today following a triple murder at his home at Vineland last night.

The dead: Mrs. Taylor Hanks, 28. Their infant son, Albert, 20 months. The child's great grandfather, Schockopee, aged over 100 years.

The bodies of the three were found in the reservation home at 8:30 o'clock last night when Indians residing there rushed to the house on hearing screams. The bodies of Mrs. Hanks and the aged Indian were near the door as if they had attempted to escape from the house. The child's body was found in the bedroom.

All three bodies carried horrible cuts believed inflicted with an axe.

Hanks was found by officers of the reservation and turned over to Mille Lacs county authorities.

Authorities investigating the killings asserted that Hanks killed his kin while crazed with liquor following a family dispute.

The heads of the victims were cut open and deep gashes inflicted in the shoulders.

Hanks is a veteran of the world war and a graduate of Carlisle, Indian university.

Schockopee was reported by Indians at the reservation to have been the oldest living there. He was not known to have a first name.

Milaca, Minn., March 31.—(U.P.)—William Taylor Hanks, educated Indian and graduate of the Carlisle Institute, was held today charged with the murder of his wife, an infant stepson and his wife's grandfather in their home on the Mille Lacs reservation, 36 miles north of here.

Hanks signed a complete confession of the crimes. The murders were committed last night and he was under arrest less than two hours later.

The dead are Jennie Hanks, 26, his wife, Alvin Hanks, his 14 months old stepson, and an aged Indian known only as "Shaugabee," grandfather of Mrs. Hanks.

A double-edged axe and a small hammer were used to commit the crime. Hanks declared that he had been drinking and had quarreled with his wife. She had been "mean" to him, he said.

While carrying a pail of water for his wife, his confession read, he became incensed and struck her with the axe. "Shaugabee" then came at him with a knife, Hanks is said to have declared. "Shaugabee" was slain with the axe while the child was clubbed to death with a small hammer.

Hanks was arrested in a house about half a mile from his home, where he was hiding. Department of justice agents from Minneapolis were to investigate today or tomorrow.

The confession was made to D. W. Luchsing, Mille Lacs county sheriff, and Olin C. Myron, county attorney.

BROTHER'S EXPERIENCE NO BENEFIT TO HIM

Chicago, March 31.—(U.P.)—Edward Walz, 17, could not learn from the experience of others. When he was 12 he saw his brother William shot to death by a policeman after a store robbery. When he was 15 he visited the death cell from which another brother, Charles, went to the gallows for murder. Today Edward was in jail, charged with stealing an automobile.

St. Cloud, March 31.—(U.P.)—Hundreds of parishioners today formed a bucket brigade in a vain attempt to save the St. James Catholic church near Cold Spring, one of the pioneer churches of Stearns county, from destruction by fire.

Despite the efforts of the hastily organized fire fighters the old structure was completely destroyed at a loss of $40,000. The building had been insured for $10,000.

PILL TAKING WAS REAL TASK FOR PRINCE OF WALES

London, March 31.—(U.P.)—The Prince of Wales is just like any man when it comes to being habited when he is sick, according to Miss Grace Fuller, one of the nurses who attended him when he was ill recently in South Africa with malarial fever.

"He was a splendid patient," said Miss Fuller in a letter to friends in London, "but he was a real babe when it came to swallowing pills. When I gave him the pills the prince said: 'This is my barbed wire and gate-jumping trick.'"

RENEWED STATUS OF HOLY SEE AS TEMPORAL POWER

WILL BRING BEFORE ECUMENICAL COUNCIL OF CHURCH 3 GREAT QUESTIONS

POSITION OF CHURCH TOWARD THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS, ETC.

By FRANCESCO REA (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, March 31.—The renewed status of the Holy See as a sovereign temporal power will bring before the great ecumenical council of the church, announced for 1931, three questions involving the entire civilized world.

At the meeting, which will be attended by archbishops and bishops from every Christian country, the following issues will be considered:

The position of the church towards the League of Nations.

Doctrines upholding the supremacy of state over church.

Settlement of a fixed date for the celebration of Easter.

In connection with the Easter question, it is recalled that the League of Nations sounded out the vatican on the matter some time ago, receiving a reply that the Holy See considered the question raised prematurely, since it would be examined by the ecumenical council.

The papal bill convoking the council will outline its purposes, broadly, as follows: "To consider carefully those things meant for the greater glory of God, integrity of the faith, the decorum of divine worship, eternal salvation, discipline of the soul, education of the clergy, regular and secular observance of ecclesiastical laws, correctness of morals of Christians, education of youth, and promotion of peace and good will among all peoples."

Vatican observers are particularly gratified that the Roman question is at last definitely settled, thus permitting the pope to bring together the greatest assemblage of Christianity under the fullest guarantee of freedom.

The world is becoming increasingly pagan, the pope told 200 delegates representing 1,200 Marian congregations throughout the world yesterday, and as a consequence co-operation between the church hierarchy and the Catholic laity is more necessary than ever.

The pope urged establishment of a central organization "for Catholic action" in every country. Cardinal Facelli, secretary of state of the Holy See, he said, will send out a letter more fully outlining his purpose.

M. L. POTTER, 33, KILLED AT CLINTON FALLS, COMPANION SEVERELY INJURED

Owatonna, Minn., March 31.—(U.P.)—M. L. Potter, 33, was killed today and his companion, Jack Leuthold, 24, severely injured when their automobile hit the sidewalk of a bridge near Clinton Falls.

Both men live in Waseca. The force of the crash threw them through the windshield. Leuthold, who was taken to the Owatonna city hospital, is expected to recover.

The two were driving home from the Twin Cities. Potter died a few minutes after the accident. He suffered a fractured skull.

Leuthold apparently was cut only about the face and hands, hospital nurses said.

Military and Extremist Leaders of North China to Break With Kai-Shek Government

HAVE THREATENED CIVIL WAR FOR MANY MONTHS

MILITARY ACTIVITIES STARTED IN HONAN PROVINCE IN CHINA

COMMUNISTS CAPTURE AMERICAN CITIZEN AND 2 BRITISH SUBJECTS

Peiping, China, March 31.—(U.P.)—Military and extremist leaders of northern China, who have threatened civil war for months, agreed today to a complete break with the national government of Chiang Kai-Shek.

Military activities in Honan province, with the object of capturing Hankow, were reported already begun, although the decision to set up a new government was said to await approval of certain military chieftains and of Wang Chiang-Wei, ardent revolutionist who broke with the national government in 1927.

A decision to break with the government and establish a provisional party government at Peiping was reached today. The conference was attended by representatives of the left (or radical) wing of the Kuomintang (national government's political party), by leaders of the northern faction of the Kuomintang and by representatives of the two most powerful rebel military chieftains—Yen Hsi-Shan and Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang.

Leaders of the movement against the government at Nanking charged that government leaders do not represent the party, whereas they claimed the new government they would establish here actually is the center of the party.

Meanwhile, Feng Yu-Hsiang claimed the capture of the city of Kai-Feng, capital of Honan. John Earle Baker, of the American Famine Relief, returned from Honan province to declare that Feng expects to capture Hankow soon.

Washington, March 31.—Capture of an American citizen, presumed to be Miss Nina Sleanor Gemmel, and of two British subjects by communists who looted Yuanchow in Kiangsi province, China, was reported to the state department today by Frank P. Lockhart, American consul general at Hankow.

In a telegram from Edwin S. Cunningham, American consul general at Shanghai, the British subjects were identified as Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Port.

MARRIAGEABLE AGE OF HINDUS ORDERED RAISED

HUNDREDS OF WEDDINGS OF CHILDREN OCCUR BEFORE LAW BECOMES EFFECTIVE

NEW MEASURE SETS GIRLS' AGE AT 14 AND BOYS' AT 18 YEARS OF AGE

Calcutta, India, March 31.—(U.P.)—Hundreds of Hindu boys and girls, some of them less than 10 years old and a few of them still at the cradle age, have been married within the past 24 hours in "orthodox" circles of India.

Hundreds more, before midnight, will have been bound by their parents to involuntary marriage, in an endeavor to beat the new British law forbidding child marriages, which goes into effect tomorrow.

One of the most amazing customs, to western eyes, and one of the most sacred to Indians, comes to an end with the operation of the act. The new British rule, which is certain to be disobeyed quietly, raises the marriageable age of "women" to 14 years, and that of "men" to 18.

Recommendations contained in the bill for enforcement and punishment appear modest and cautious to the western world, but to the orthodox Hindu and Moslem they seem colossal. The act takes away a religious belief and custom almost as old as the races of India. Early child marriage was practiced in the days before Christianity. It is one of the most revered and antiquated of laws.

Yet, little trouble is anticipated. British governmental officials expect a few individuals may break the law, but as a whole, they believe, the new piece of legislation will receive little opposition.

Episcopal missionaries. This telegram said the captors were brigands.

The information reached Cunningham in a telegram from Sinyu in Kiangsi province to the China island mission in Shanghai.

TENSE AIR HANGS HEAVILY OVER THE MISSOURI PRISON

OPERATION OF ALL FACTORIES RESUMED AT JEFFERSON CITY TODAY

800 PARTICIPANTS OF LAST WEEK'S MUTINIES ARE LEFT IN THEIR CELLS

By NOLEN BULLOCK (United Press Staff Correspondent)

State Penitentiary, Jefferson City, Mo., March 31.—(U.P.)—A tense air hung heavily over the Missouri state prison today as operation of virtually all factories was resumed for the first time since the mutinies of last week which ended in a riot Thursday noon in the dining hall.

Determined to have a "showdown" to find if the disorders have been quelled, about 1,200 convicts were ordered by the prison board to resume work. About 800 of the participants in last week's mutinies were left in their cells today.

They will be gradually added to the working forces until normal operations are in effect. Guards and militiamen were scattered about the factories today prepared for quick action in event of another outbreak, the last which resulted in about 75 prisoners being injured in a clash with guards.

The guardmen also remained stationed at vantage points on the prison walls, manning machine guns.

The national guard unit will be kept here until prison officials are assured of no further trouble.

TO TEST STATE HIGHWAY ACT'S FINANCIAL ITEMS

St. Paul, March 31.—(U.P.)—Commissioner of Public Works John H. McDonald said he would recommend to the city council today that St. Paul join Minneapolis in a suit to test the constitutionality of the recently enacted state highway act's financial provisions. If the suit is successful funds would be available to the Twin Cities and Duluth for city street work.

HOPE TO DISPOSE OF HUGE MASS OF BILLS PILED UP

SENATORS BELIEVE ADJOURNMENT WILL BE POSSIBLE BY JUNE 1

APPROPRIATION BILLS, WILLIAMSON BILL TO FOLLOW

Washington, March 31.—(U.P.)—Senate leaders prepared today for a final two months' drive to dispose of the mass of urgent legislation which has piled up behind the recently passed tariff bill. They hope to adjourn by June 1.

Beginning with the Norris Muscle Shoals bill tomorrow, after a week's rest, the leaders plan to bring up in rapid succession the regular appropriation bills, the Williamson bill to transfer prohibition enforcement from the treasury to justice department, and the bill to reorganize the federal power commission.

The program has been cut to the bone so the session can be ended early and so members of congress seeking re-election can return home to mend political fences.

Two of the measures on the program, the Muscle Shoals bill, and the Williamson bill, are expected to stimulate prolonged debate.

The Muscle Shoals bill will bring up with it the politically potent issue involving Chairman Claudius Huston, of the republican national committee, and his handling of funds for the Tennessee River Improvement Association. This association, formerly headed by Huston, has led the lobby against the Norris bill, providing for government operation of the Shoals power plant. It has urged enactment of the Madden-Wright bill.

Senate leaders hoped to dispose of the Norris bill before the end of this week, then the prohibition bill probably will be the next major measure before congress. It will provide the opportunity for a long pent-up senate debate on the prohibition situation.

The nomination of Judge John J. Parker, of North Carolina, to the supreme court bench likewise awaits senate action. A vigorous fight over his confirmation is expected in view of organized labor's opposition to him.

The tariff bill, pushed from the senate chamber last week after a half year's sojourn, turned up in the house today and demanded attention from leaders.

The house rules and steering committees knitted their brows over plans for ironing out the hundreds of differences between rates passed by the two legitimate chambers. Representatives from beet-sugar states were understood to be combining to prevent a separate vote Tuesday on the sugar schedules. On the house floor, only minor bills appeared for consideration.

RUMORED MERGER OF RUBBER COMPANIES

St. Paul, March 31.—(U.P.)—Senator John H. Hougen, Crookston, today filed as a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant-governor. His filing puts to rest reports that he would enter the gubernatorial race. Senator Hougen now represents the 66th district in the state senate.

DANCE ARGUMENT ENDS IN 9 WOUNDED

Chicago, March 31.—(U.P.)—Joseph Zachalava and his wife started an argument on the dance floor at a southside hall. The 400 dancers took sides. Then the police came. When the smoke cleared away, one man was probably fatally shot, and eight others, including Zachalava and four policemen, were injured.

CAPT. HAWKS CUTS SHORT GLIDER FLIGHT

Tucson, Ariz., March 31.—(U.P.)—Capt. Frank Hawks, attempting a glider flight from San Diego to New York, returned to the airport here today after he and his tow plane piloted by J. D. Jerigin, Jr., had taken off for El Paso, Texas.

Neither Hawks nor Jerigin would say what forced them to return to the airport.

BRUENING IS TO PRESENT HIS NEW CABINET TO TEUTONS

Berlin, March 31.—(U.P.)—Chancellor Heinrich Bruening will present his new cabinet to the reichstag Tuesday, to meet instant and bitter hostility from the strong socialist party, which has no post in the government.

Chancellor Bruening took over his new office at 11 a. m., succeeding Hermann Mueller as head of the cabinet.

Observers gave the Bruening cabinet little hope of surviving the onslaught that is sure to follow announcement of the new policies.

DOGGED EFFORTS OF RESCUE MEN TO FIND MINERS

16 TRAPPED IN BLAST SATURDAY AT KETTLE ISLAND, KENTUCKY

DEADLY CARBON MONOXIDE GAS PERMEATES DEPTHS OF THE MINE

Pineville, Ky., March 31.—(U.P.)—Dogged efforts of rescue workers to find 16 miners entombed in the Pioneer Coal Company's mine at Kettle Island, Ky., continued today, with hope practically abandoned that the men trapped by a blast Saturday, were still alive.

Deadly carbon monoxide gas permeated the depths of the mine, endangering the rescue crews, members of which in several instances were forced to return to the surface ill from the gas despite their masks.

Families of the victims huddled in groups about the shaft waiting word from below.

Pineville, Ky., March 31.—The bodies of five of the 16 miners entombed by a blast in the Pioneer Coal Co. mine at Kettle Island, Ky., Saturday, were found by rescue workers today.

John S. Daniels, chief of the state department of mines, said it had been impossible to bring the bodies to the surface immediately, due to the wide range of poisonous gas below the surface, hampering rescue activities.

The crew that found the bodies was forced to come to the surface, the gas having sifted through their gas masks, making them ill.

The amount of debris in the mine made likely a longer delay before the others trapped are found, Daniels said.

Rescue parties had worked ceaselessly since the explosion Saturday while families of the victims huddled about the shaft waiting word from below. Little hope existed that any of those entombed would be found alive.

"THE SHOW MUST GO ON" TRADITION

FLORENCE REED, ILL., KEEPS AT ROLE UNTIL SHE FAINTS IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Minn., March 31.—(U.P.)—Acting until she fainted on the stage, Florence Reed today carried forward the best traditions of a game trouper of the theatre.

While playing the title role in "Stella Dallas" Sunday, Miss Reed concealed all traces of her illness from audience and fellow actors alike until she collapsed during the third act.

Mildred Billert, who played a role as Stella Dallas' daughter, came to the fainted figure and said, "mother, mother, what is the matter?" then she rang for the maid. The curtain came down in the improvised lines as the maid entered the stage.

Miss Reed pleaded with the management to be allowed to perform last night, but the show was postponed at the direction of the theatre manager, A. G. Bainbridge. She was taken to her hotel room.

Tonight's performance was expected to go on as usual.

3 PERSONS BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE AT FARM HOME

Anderson, Ind., March 31.—(U.P.)—Three persons were burned to death in a fire at the farm home of Mrs. James Gooding, 58, near here today. Mrs. Gooding, Mrs. Mary Rise, 60, and J. W. Moore, 65, the victims, were sleeping when the blaze started in the home.

Britain Plans an Air-Linked Empire

The British dirigible R-100 will attempt to bridge the Atlantic early this year, marking the first step toward the English dream of an air-linked empire. The Graf Zeppelin will start on its sixth transatlantic trip. The United States, focal point of the German airship's former crossings, will be neglected on the sixth, as the big Zeppelin will fly for South America, while the dirigible R-100 in its flight to Canada may determine whether England will carry out its plan of establishing a fleet of dirigibles linking the far-flung units of the empire by air. Major G. H. Scott will be the skipper of the R-100 on its first oceanic crossing.

"THE SHOW MUST GO ON" TRADITION

FLORENCE REED, ILL. KEEPS AT ROLE UNTIL SHE FAINTS IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Minn., March 31.—(U.P.)—Acting until she fainted on the stage, Florence Reed today carried forward the best traditions of a game trouper of the theatre.

While playing the title role in "Stella Dallas" Sunday, Miss Reed concealed all traces of her illness from audience and fellow actors alike until she collapsed during the third act.

Mildred Billert, who played a role as Stella Dallas' daughter, came to the fainted figure and said, "mother, mother, what is the matter?" then she rang for the maid. The curtain came down in the improvised lines as the maid entered the stage.

Miss Reed pleaded with the management to be allowed to perform last night, but the show was postponed at the direction of the theatre manager, A. G. Bainbridge. She was taken to her hotel room.

Tonight's performance was expected to go on as usual.

HOPE TO DISPOSE OF HUGE MASS OF BILLS PILED UP

SOLONS BELIEVE ADJOURNMENT WILL BE POSSIBLE BY JUNE 1

APPROPRIATION BILLS, WILLIAMSON BILL TO FOLLOW MUSCLE SHOALS

Washington, March 31.—(U.P.)—Senate leaders prepared today for a final two months' drive to dispose of the mass of urgent legislation which has piled up behind the recently passed tariff bill. They hope to adjourn by June 1.

Beginning with the Norris Muscle Shoals bill tomorrow, after a week's rest, the leaders plan to bring up in rapid succession the regular appropriation bills, the Williamson bill to transfer prohibition enforcement from the treasury to justice department, and the bill to reorganize the federal power commission.

The program has been cut to the bone so the session can be ended early and so members of congress, seeking re-election can return home to mend political fences.

Two of the measures on the program, the Muscle Shoals bill, and the Williamson bill, are expected to stimulate prolonged debate.

The Muscle Shoals bill will bring up with it the politically potent issue involving Chairman Claudius Huston, of the republican national committee, and his handling of funds for the Tennessee River Improvement Association. This association, formerly headed by Huston, has led the lobby against the Norris bill, providing for government operation of the Muscle power plant. It has urged enactment of the Madden-Wright bill.

Senate leaders hoped to dispose of the Norris bill before the end of this week, then the prohibition bill probably will be the next major measure before congress. It will provide the opportunity for a long post-up senate debate on the prohibition situation.

The nomination of Judge John J. Parker, of North Carolina, to the supreme court bench likewise awaits senate action. A vigorous fight over his confirmation is expected in view of organized labor's opposition to him.

The tariff bill, pushed from the senate chamber last week after a half year's sojourn, turned up in the house today and demanded attention from leaders.

The house rules and steering committees knitted their brows over plans for ironing out the hundreds of differences between rates passed by the two legitimate chambers. Representatives from beet-sugar states were understood to be combining to prevent a separate vote Tuesday on the sugar schedules. On the house floor, only minor bills appeared for consideration.

St. Paul, March 31.—(U.P.)—Senator John H. Hougen, Crookston, today filed as a candidate for the republican nomination for lieutenant-governor. His filing puts to rest reports that he would enter the gubernatorial race. Senator Hougen now represents the 66th district in the state senate.

DANCE ARGUMENT ENDS IN 9 WOUNDED

Chicago, March 31.—(U.P.)—Joseph Zachalava and his wife started an argument on the dance floor at a southside hall. The 400 dancers took sides. Then the police came. When the smoke cleared away, one man was probably fatally shot, and eight others, including Zachalava and four policemen, were injured.

CAPT. HAWKS CUTS SHORT GLIDER FLIGHT

Tucson, Ariz., March 31.—(U.P.)—Capt. Frank Hawks, attempting a glider flight from San Diego to New York, returned to the airport here today after he and his tow plane piloted by J. D. Jerling, Jr., had taken off for El Paso, Texas.

Neither Hawks nor Jerling would say what forced them to return to the airport.

Britain Plans an Air-Linked Empire

The British dirigible R-100 will attempt to bridge the Atlantic early this year, marking the first step toward the English dream of an air-linked empire. The Graf Zeppelin will start on its sixth transatlantic trip. The United States, focal point of the German airship's former crossings, will be neglected on the sixth, as the big Zeppelin will fly for South America, while the dirigible R-100 in its flight to Canada may determine whether England will carry out its plan of establishing a fleet of dirigibles linking the far-flung units of the empire by air. Major G. H. Scott will be the skipper of the R-100 on its first oceanic crossing.

ST. CLOUD FIRM IS INVESTIGATED

INDICTMENTS ARE TO BE ASKED
AGAINST DIAMOND MOTOR
PARTS CO. OFFICIALS

St. Paul, March 31.—(U.P.)—Federal District Attorney L. L. Drill today announced that indictments would be asked this week against the Diamond Motor Parts Company officials. The company, which was located in St. Cloud, went into receivership about a year ago.

St. Paul, March 31.—L. L. Drill, United States district attorney, late today announced that an alleged stock fraud case involving losses of close to one million dollars to investors would be presented to the federal grand jury next Wednesday.

The company involved is the defunct Diamond Motor Parts Company of St. Cloud, Minn., which went into receivership about a year ago, the attorney said.

Twenty witnesses have been subpoenaed to testify as to the alleged irregularities of the concern which was taken over by the Aluminum Industries, Inc., whose headquarters are in Cincinnati.

Some of the witnesses who will testify before the grand jury on Wednesday will come from Washington, Oregon, Wyoming and other northwestern states, Drill said.

George Bouthenon, St. Cloud, was president of the company of the Diamond Motor Parts Company during its operations, according to M. F. Kin-kaid, assistant United States attorney who is handling the case for the government.

The Motor Parts Company has been under investigation for the past two months by postal inspectors working out of the St. Paul postoffice, it was said.

The case was said, by those who knew the "inside," to be more far-reaching than the fur farms investigation which shook the state during the past year.

LABOR REGIME LOSES ON MOTION

QUESTION OF RULES ENGROSSES ATTENTION OF BRITISH COMMONS

London, March 31.—The labor government was defeated in the house of commons today on a motion for suspension of the rule which automatically terminates daily debate at 11 P. M.

The house, by a vote of 183 to 179, rejected a motion by Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald to exempt today's session from the 11 P. M. provision.

The opposition demanded the government's resignation but MacDonald's cabinet was not expected to resign.

The house of commons' rejection of the prime minister's request was the second defeat suffered by the labor government this month. The first reversal was on an amendment which the conservative party opposed to the government's coal mines bill and which the commons accepted over the cabinet's protests.

MacDonald, however, declared the

Taking the Census in Brainerd

CENSUS taking gets under way in Brainerd Wednesday this week, with five enumerators in charge, being one for each of the five wards of the city. An appeal to everyone in Brainerd to co-operate with the census takers when "counting noses," is made by the census department of the government and by all interested citizens of Brainerd.

Only by the willingness of every citizen to supply the census enumerators with the information they require can Brainerd be assured of having its proper and accurate count.

Failure to assist properly is little short of calamity. The 1930 census figures of any city enter materially in many relations, in business and industrial development. It places Brainerd in a certain class as regards many laws, bonding issues, etc.

Here are past census figures of Brainerd. In 1900 Brainerd had 7,524 population; in 1910, 8,526; in 1920, 9,591. Natural growth ought to put Brainerd in the 10,000 class this year.

The best way to help Brainerd to get an accurate and complete count is to give the enumerator the information he requires in the shortest possible time. Study the questions as they were enumerated in Saturday's Brainerd Dispatch. The enumerators have been selected with care. They know the wards in which they will work, for they have resided there many years.

When the enumeration gets under way, the Dispatch hopes to tell daily where the enumerator is working. Tomorrow's paper will carry the description of the sections where the five enumerators will start work. Household heads should make it a point to stay at home to be on hand to give the desired information and thus lighten the labors and facilitate the work of the enumerators.

Wealth in Rivers

RIVERS carry other wealth besides fish. Here in the north men have devoted themselves to fishing deadheads out of the Mississippi. These are pine and other logs which snagged in the river bottom and after being hoisted to the surface and dried, make good lumber.

A theory has been advanced in South Africa, according to Popular Science, that the rivers in the elephant countries are the burying ground of the elephants. For years the idea had been entertained that the elephants about to die made a last trek to some secluded land spot and there passed away. But no huge masses of elephant bones or tusks have ever been discovered. The theory now advanced is that the ivory will be found in masses in certain rivers.

Here in the north we have no ivory in the rivers, but we have clam shells in the Mississippi and Crow Wing rivers and after being shipped to Muscatine, Iowa, the shells become the so-called pearl buttons of the commercial world.

Railway Improvements

MORE than 9,000 men will be put to work by northwest railroads during the next few weeks. Maintenance of way programs and general improvement work will be under way on all lines operating out of the Twin Cities in the next few days. It has been estimated that the maintenance program of the northwest railroads will exceed that of other years, most of it being expended in payrolls.

In a few days, it is reported, the Northern Pacific and Great Northern will have work for about 5,000 men on their general maintenance programs. The Burlington has begun work on the La Crosse division. The Omaha, St. Paul, Great Western, Soo Line and Minneapolis and St. Louis lines all will require men for general summer work. Both the Northern Pacific and Great Northern will use from 2,000 to 3,000 men on their summer work. These will be distributed all along the line.

Another Illusion Hit

A SCIENTIFIC journal hits another illusion of childhood. Many thought for years that the proper way to lie in bed is the lengthy way, head at the head of the bed and feet at the foot of the bed, the body parallel with the sides of the bed.

Now comes a scientist and says the way that gives most relaxation and of course more rest is to cuddle up like a kitten. None of the bed spring ad pictures we have seen have ever showed any cuddling. In the pioneer days the lumber jacks' and miners' bunks were too long and narrow to permit any such luxurious sleep. Even the movie picture queens do not cuddle up.

However, nothing against trying the latest sleep antics and see if you gain restful slumbers by sleeping with your knees under your chin.

ACCORDING to the Interstate Commerce Commission records, as given by the Associated Press, the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington group ranks second in the United States in mileage of railroads having a large common ownership. These three have about 25,000 miles of line. This is only exceeded by the Pennsylvania system and its associated and affiliated lines, it is said. The Van Sweringen group is said to control about 20,000 miles.

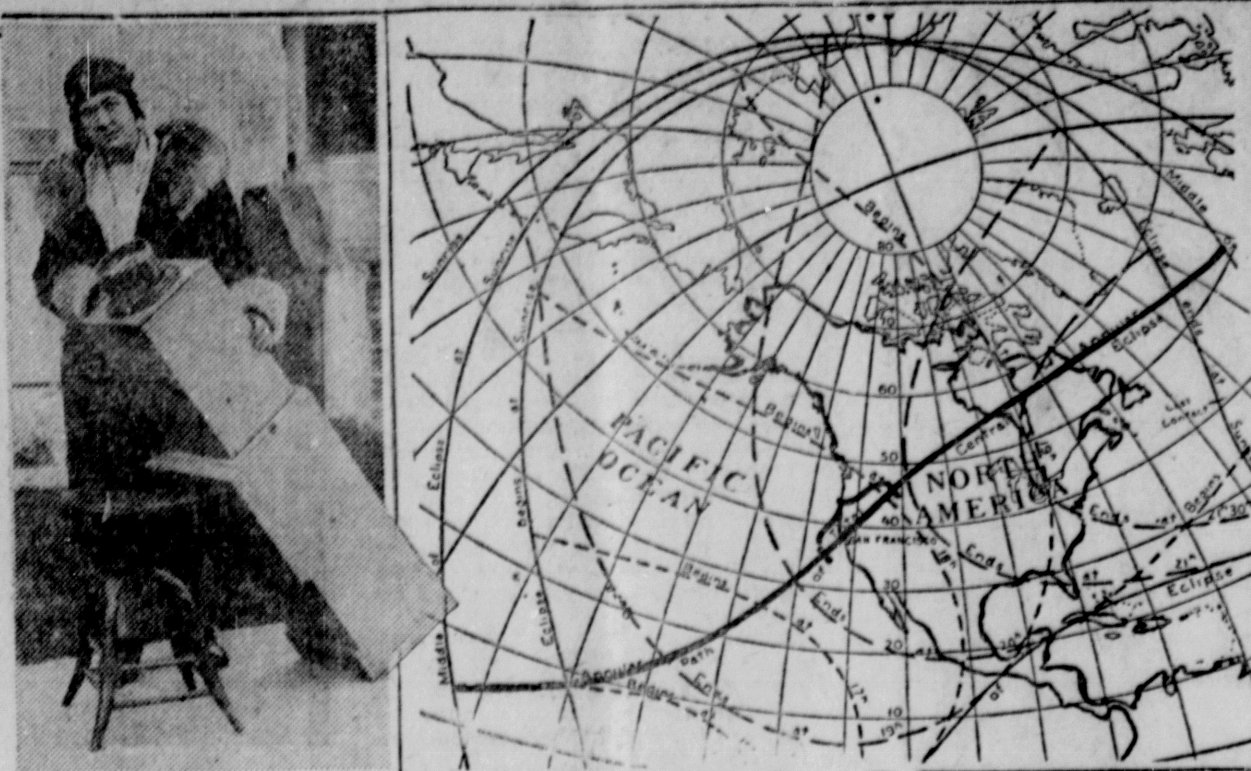

MINNESOTA farmers will plant 15,963,500 acres of land to the principal crops this season, the Minneapolis Crop Reporting Service said in its monthly report. The report said farmers intend to increase only corn and flax acreages and will decrease acreages of spring wheat and oats. The total acreage by the crop reporting service is an increase of 1.2 per cent over 1929, when 15,774,500 acres were planted.

CRISLER's biggest problem down at the University is to find a player who will fill the capacious shoes of Bronko Nagurski. The Bronk made a wonderful player, showing his ability wherever placed, merging with the team, never grandstanding.

THE Minnesota State Y. M. C. A. championships and junior intermediate and senior basketball, handball, gymnastics and swimming will be held at the Minneapolis Central Y on April 11 and 12.

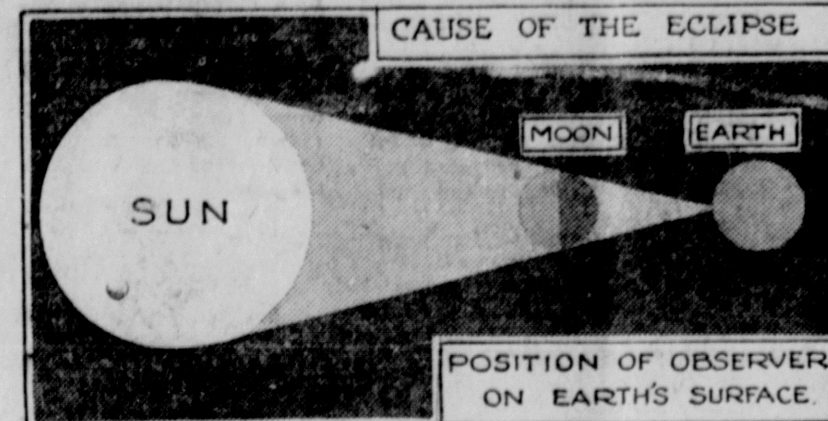

THE Northern Pacific has purchased about 40 acres of property in the south end of Seattle at a cost of about half a million dollars and will develop the land for industrial uses.

MRS. ISABEL M. LEWIS.

In order to maintain unbroken the historical record of solar eclipses, it has been arranged to send Mrs. Isabel M. Lewis, the observatory woman astronomer, to Honey Lake, Calif., to observe the total eclipse there at 11:05 a. m. on April 28. A specially built camera with a 46-inch focal length and a powerful lens will be used by Mrs. Lewis to observe the sun's corona—a beautiful gaseous glow that is visible only when it projects beyond the sun's disc during the eclipse. The chart shows that the total eclipse will be visible only in California. The eclipse will last a second and a half and the moon's shadow will be only half a mile wide.

Taking the Census in Brainerd

CENSUS taking gets under way in Brainerd Wednesday this week, with five enumerators in charge, being one for each of the five wards of the city. An appeal to everyone in Brainerd to co-operate with the census takers when "counting noses," is made by the census department of the government and by all interested citizens of Brainerd.

Only by the willingness of every citizen to supply the census enumerators with the information they require can Brainerd be assured of having its proper and accurate count.

Failure to assist properly is little short of calamity. The 1930 census figures of any city enter materially in many relations, in business and industrial development. It places Brainerd in a certain class as regards many laws, bonding issues, etc.

Here are past census figures of Brainerd. In 1900 Brainerd had 7,524 population; in 1910, 8,526; in 1920, 9,591. Natural growth ought to put Brainerd in the 10,000 class this year.

The best way to help Brainerd to get an accurate and complete count is to give the enumerator the information he requires in the shortest possible time. Study the questions as they were enumerated in Saturday's Brainerd Dispatch. The enumerators have been selected with care. They know the wards in which they will work, for they have resided there many years.

When the enumeration gets under way, the Dispatch hopes to tell daily where the enumerator is working. Tomorrow's paper will carry the description of the sections where the five enumerators will start work. Household heads should make it a point to stay at home to be on hand to give the desired information and thus lighten the labors and facilitate the work of the enumerators.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL SEASON OPENS IN 2 WEEKS

PRELIMINARY GAME BETWEEN RED SOX, SENATORS

PRESIDENT HOOVER AND OTHER CELEBRITIES TO WITNESS IT ON APRIL 14

REMAINDER OF BIG LEAGUE CLUBS SWING INTO ACTION THE NEXT DAY

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 31.—Two weeks from today the 1930 major league baseball season will open with a preliminary game between the Red Sox and Senators at Washington.

After this game before President Hoover and other celebrities on April 14, the remainder of the major league clubs will swing into action the following day.

Many strange things have happened in the training camps this spring.

The Chicago Cubs, National League champions, lost three straight games to Pittsburgh before they finally won Sunday, 13-7.

The World Champion Philadelphia Athletics have been able to win only six out of 15 exhibition games against the Cardinals, Braves, Reds, Phillies and Robins. The Braves took four out of five from the Athletics.

A number of young players appear to have won regular jobs. Among this group are Allen (Dusty) Cooke and Ben Chapman, both from St. Paul, who have been named by Manager Bob Shawkey to start the season in left field and third base, respectively for the New York Yankees.

Smead Jolly, San Francisco outfielder, has made good with the Chicago White Sox and his team-mate, Gus Suhr, hard-hitting first baseman, has won a regular place with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Three rookies probably will start the season for the Boston Braves. They are Randolph Moore, who came up from Dallas, an outfielder but who has been converted into a third baseman; Johnny Neun from Baltimore, who formerly played first base for Detroit; and Wally Berger from the Los Angeles Pacific Coast League club.

One of the big surprises is the great playing of Barney Friberg, who threatens to crowd Captain Fresco Thompson off his regular place at second base with the Phillies. Friberg, who has played practically every position with the Phils, apparently has found his real position at last and has temporarily been named to start the season at second, in place of Thompson, who was a holdout and late in reporting.

BOTH CONTESTANTS IN WRESTLING MATCH REPORTED IN PINK OF CONDITION

3 BOXING, 4 WRESTLING EVENTS PRELIMINARIES ON ATHLETIC CARD TONIGHT

Fred Ross of Pequot and Al Barslou, lightweight champion of Iowa, are reported in the pink of condition for tonight's wrestling match to be held at the U. C. T. auditorium at 8:15 o'clock, the main event being preceded by a card of three boxing and four wrestling exhibitions.

All boxing exhibitions will be of three rounds each. The preliminary wrestling bouts will be limited to 15 minutes to a fall. The Pequot district and the Cuyuna range country are expected to send large delegations of fans.

10-ROUND BOUT IS TO BE STAGED IN ST. PAUL AS FIGHT FEATURE

VON PORAT INJURED HANDS IN UZCUDUN FIGHT, CAUSING 3 POSTPONEMENTS

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—(U.P.)—Otto Von Porat, Norwegian heavy-weight boxing contender, was favored today to win from Angus Snyder, Kanhas heavyweight scrapper, in their feature 10-round bout.

Von Porat's fight will be his first match since losing a decision to Paulino Uzcudun in New York early in January. In that bout he injured his hands, necessitating three postponements of his scrap with Snyder.

Von Porat tapered off his training today with a light workout in Minneapolis while Snyder completed his preparations with rope work and shadow boxing.

The Kansan predicted an upset in the battle, claiming that Von Porat was trying to run out on him. The Von Porat-Snyder fight is the first important bout in St. Paul since the campaigning days of Gene Tunney.

MIKE HOLTER IN SECOND PLACE IN THE SINGLES

MINNEAPOLIS MAN ATTAINS 714 TOTAL IN AMERICAN BOWLING CONGRESS

LARRY SHOTWELL OF KENTUCKY SET TOTAL OF 774 ON SATURDAY

Cleveland, O., March 31.—(U.P.)—Mike Holter of Minneapolis rolled into second place in the singles standings of the American Bowling Congress yesterday with a mighty fine 714 total, but his performance caused little more than a ripple of the sensational pin wrecking feats of Larry Shotwell of Covington, Ky., who set an all-time A. B. C. record of 774 in the sole division Saturday.

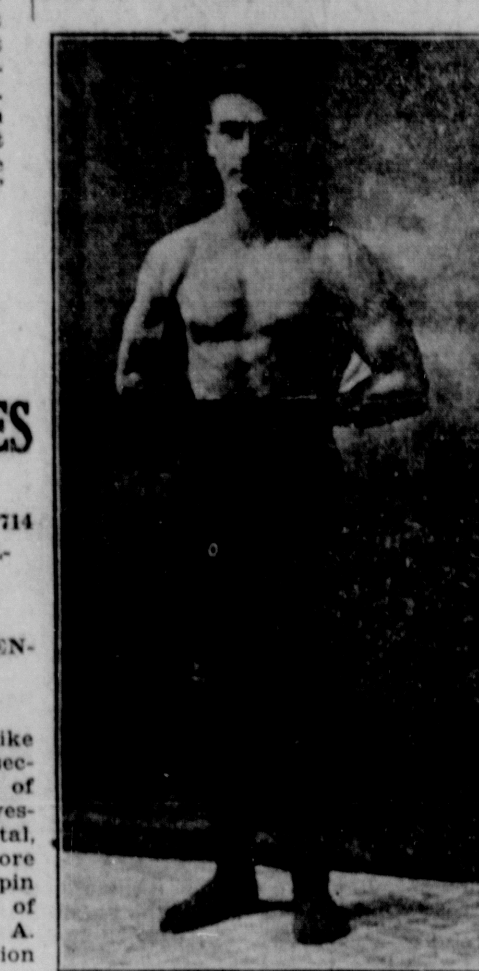

Besides Holter, only one other person was able to gain recognition in the singles over the week-end. Frank "Jimmy" Britt, 32-year-old veteran from Rochester, N. Y., bagged seventh place with a 696 total.

Two strong games at the start enabled Holter to beat out the 709 total of Frank Hrach, Cleveland, for second by five pins. Holter opened with his best game, a 257 and came back with a 252 and 202 for his 714.

Outside of Holter's pin topping in the singles, the only other performances worthy of note were confined to the doubles class. Ed and Jack Benton of Detroit tallied 1294 to deadlock with Sykes Thoma and Fred Kartheiser of Chicago for fifth place.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL SEASON OPENS IN 2 WEEKS

PRELIMINARY GAME BETWEEN RED SOX, SENATORS

PRESIDENT HOOVER AND OTHER CELEBRITIES TO WITNESS IT ON APRIL 14

REMAINDER OF BIG LEAGUE CLUBS SWING INTO ACTION THE NEXT DAY

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 31.—Two weeks from today the 1930 major league baseball season will open with a preliminary game between the Red Sox and Senators at Washington.

After this game before President Hoover and other celebrities on April 14, the remainder of the major league clubs will swing into action the following day.

Many strange things have happened in the training camps this spring:

The Chicago Cubs, National League champions, lost three straight games to Pittsburgh before they finally won Sunday, 13-7.

The World Champion Philadelphia Athletics have been able to win only six out of 15 exhibition games against the Cardinals, Braves, Reds, Phillies and Robins. The Braves took four out of five from the Athletics.

A number of young players appear to have won regular jobs. Among this group are Allen (Dusty) Cooke and Ben Chapman, both from St. Paul, who have been named by Manager Bob Shawkey to start the season in left field and third base, respectively for the New York Yankees.

Smead Jolly, San Francisco outfielder, has made good with the Chicago White Sox and his team-mate, Gus Suhr, hard-hitting first baseman, has won a regular place with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Three rookies probably will start the season for the Boston Braves. They are Randolph Moore, who came up from Dallas, an outfielder but who has been converted into a third baseman; Johnny Neun from Baltimore, who formerly played first base for Detroit; and Wally Berger from the Los Angeles Pacific Coast League club.

One of the big surprises is the great playing of Barney Friberg, who threatens to crowd Captain Fresco Thompson off his regular place at second base with the Phillies. Friberg, who has played practically every position with the Phils, apparently has found his real position at last and has temporarily been named to start the season at second, in place of Thompson, who was a holdout and late in reporting.

Why, many think Phil Scott has never been fouled! They'll hardly believe their eyes or anyone else's "It." This is an incredulous age so...

It is refreshing, indeed, to learn that some sports celebrities need no "ghosts" to do their literary work. Waite Hoyt, Yankee pitcher, can and does on occasions write for the newspapers. Tommy Loughran, a great boxer, can do likewise in describing fistie events. Each has sat at a typewriter with other reporters to pound out passable copy.

"Bill" Tilden, tennis immortal; "Charley" Paddock, once "The Fastest Human," and Benny Leonard, retired lightweight champion, are among others who can write their own stuff; as can Bobby Jones and Horton Smith, golf phenomons. Other sport stars, whose by-lines are famous, have developed systems whereby they dictate nearly all their stories. Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey do that in authentic style, each through an intimate associate, who is a skilled reporter.

But it remains for Primo Carnera, the Italian giant, to do the most remarkable newspaper feat of all in actually drawing genuinely amusing comics for the press. Carnera has a native flare for caricature. More than a year ago he began specializing in amusing sketches of his poudorous self. Arriving in America, our comic strips caught his fancy. In spare hours Carnera made himself the chief comic character in a somewhat crude but decidedly laughable series of drawings. He calls them his "Nightmares."

When Primo's attention was called to the fact that many cannot conceive him as a cartoonist, and suspect he has an artist "ghost," the big fellow vented in his best Venetian: "I don't believe in ghosts." And then Carnera continued the painstaking process of picturing his latest dream.

Home Modernizing Is Now a Year 'Round Possibility

WORK ON IMPROVEMENT MAY BEGIN AT ANY TIME

Not Necessary to Wait for Seasons

The average home owner used to believe that he had to modernize during the Spring and Summer months of the year. This belief was based on the erroneous idea that modernizing was synonymous with remodeling.

Such is not the case. Modernizing is a year round possibility. The season of the year has little influence on modernizing for the movement is broader than a building season.

During the dead of winter or the heat of summer it is possible to improve the appearance and accessories of the home.

Modernizing Starts With Idea

Modernizing starts when the home owner begins to make plans for needed improvements about the house. It starts with the idea that the old homestead is behind the times. It starts when the man of the house begins to plan for a new heating plant or a remodeled exterior, when the lady of the house purchases varied accessories to beautify the home.

Any effort to improve the appearance, convenience and beauty of the home is modernization. Every endeavor to make the home up to date places the home owner in step with the movement.

Seasonable Efforts Sometimes Necessary

Seasonable effort is necessary under certain circumstances. When the modernization plan of the owner contemplates the remodeling of the residence, these extensive alterations must be made when the weather is favorable, and when carpenters and painters can do outside work.

Many types of alterations, however, can be made during the colder weather. Interior decorating of all types is not dependent on weather—new paper can be placed on the walls, hardwood floors can be varnished and tiling laid in the bath room while blizzards rage outside or the rain patters down.

Nor does season enter into the purchasing of such home accessories as new washing machines, gas stoves, lamps, electrical outlets, draperies and furniture. All of these are modernization efforts, all fit into the home modernizing program.

Start to Improve Now

Now is the time to think about improving your home. Is your home new or out of date? Is it comfortable and convenient, or lacking in some of the things that make life easier and sweeter?

If your answer shows that equipment is needed, then you should join the home modernizing movement. You should devote your thought and efforts toward making the home a more pleasant place in which to live.

There is no need to delay. You can start now as well as later. And the sooner you begin your plans, the sooner you will enjoy the delights of a modern, well-appointed home.

WHY HOME OWNERS MODERNIZE

Few home owners modernize with the idea of deliberately increasing the cash value of their property. They usually have in mind the creature comforts that come with these improvements. They think of the convenience of hard wood floors over the older soft wood, of the tiled bath and showers, of the floor lamps in service without overhead cords running from the center cluster of lights, of sunshine pouring through wide bays of windows.

Modernization makes life worth living. It increases not only bodily satisfaction but mental enjoyment.

Good Life Rules

The best thing to give to your enemy is forgiveness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to your child, a good example; to a father, deference; to your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men, charity.—Mrs. Balfour.

Remodeling Brings Handsome Dutch Colonial Home

This substantial, Dutch Colonial home with its shingled sides, was once the commonplace house to the right. The illustration gives a hint of the possibilities that wait the owners of square, plain houses. The cost of modernizing was low.

$1700 TOTAL COST OF MODERNIZING HOME

While $2,000 is the figure usually given as the cost of modernizing the average house, the illustration to the left shows a house which was modernized into a Dutch Colonial house for $1,700.

Below is a view of the house before the contractor started to work. The contrast in pictures shows the delightful effects that can be obtained with a little thought.

Dutch Colonial Popular Design

The Dutch Colonial type of dwelling is usually marked by low eaves and broad dormer windows. It is a popular design being developed to make the space immediately under the roof habitable. The roof may not be broken by dormers but usually these are necessary to give light to the interior of the second floor.

The Dutch Colonial house meets the needs of the moderate sized family. The exterior gives pleasing lines without waste of space or material.

Stoop Takes Place of Porch

In modernizing this house the old front porch with its ginger bread trimming was removed and a small stoop with a shelter substituted. The main entrance to the interior was placed at the right of the front elevation, the older entrance being closed.

The single window opening at the left of the old entrance has been widened into a bay of three sliding windows. Below is a window box for flowers.

The front windows on the second floor have been set off by wooden shutters painted in a contrasting color. New sash and trim are used as the former tall narrow windows do not give that comfortable homey look that is typical with the Dutch Colonial. Over these windows in the gable is a semi-circular window with fan lights which affords daylight to the attic.

Dormers Contain Twin Windows

The roof lines of the house have

Wall Beds Add Another Useful Room to the House

A spare bedroom is a mighty fine thing to have for the occasional overnight guest. Such a spare room eliminates all necessity of ushering out the guest with apologies for not being able to provide a lodging, or of entirely disrupting the sleeping arrangements of the household.

The average home owner, however, cannot afford to add another room to the house with the sole idea of having available a spare bedroom for the chance guest.

The expenditure of $500 or $1,000 for a room that is only used occasionally is an expense that is often unwarranted. Yet with slight alterations it is often possible to provide sleeping quarters that are comfortable and available at a moment's notice.

The modern wall bed solves the problem of the extra room.

Wall beds were originally designed for apartment houses where square foot of space was at a premium. The wall bed is hid behind a door in a closet, the bed being swung out and lowered when needed. The closet space behind may be great enough to use as a dressing room or it may be a simple recess.

QUAINT ORIGIN OF

DUTCH COLONIAL

The origin of the Dutch Colonial style of architecture with its dormer windows piercing the extended shingled roof is explained in the following story, which sounds plausible:

The original Dutch settlers of New Amsterdam were thrifty souls and when a tax was placed on two story houses, the settlers got around the law by designing their two-story houses with roofs which swept down the side of the second floor to the ceiling point of the usual first floors. The second floor technically became an attic by this design and so the house was not subject to the roof tax.

QUAINT ORIGIN OF

DUTCH COLONIAL

The origin of the Dutch Colonial style of architecture with its dormer windows piercing the extended shingled roof is explained in the following story, which sounds plausible:

The original Dutch settlers of New Amsterdam were thrifty souls and when a tax was placed on two story houses, the settlers got around the law by designing their two-story houses with roofs which swept down the side of the second floor to the ceiling point of the usual first floors. The second floor technically became an attic by this design and so the house was not subject to the roof tax.

been changed to give the dormer effect. Broad dormers on each side of the roof break the roof to provide the necessary light and ventilation.

The former window openings at the side on the second floor have been

RAILROADS 35 YEARS WITHOUT A MISHAP

Harry A. Baxter Completes Service for Northern Pacific Saturday

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—Harry A. Baxter, when he arrived in the Twin Cities early Saturday at the end of his regular run as a passenger conductor, laid aside his chevroned uniform, terminating 46 years and one month of continuous service.

Mr. Baxter, whose name today will be written on the honor rolls of the Northern Pacific, has traveled 3,150,000 miles in Northern Pacific passenger service with a record of never having had an injury to a passenger in his care. For 35 years he has run continuously on the North Coast Limited between St. Paul-Minneapolis and Fargo, N. D. His introduction to service on the Northern Pacific was in the days of the link and pin, the hand brake, the tallow candle and the wood-burning locomotive. His passengers have included such celebrities as Queen Marie and the late General Boeh.

Born at Norton, in a maritime province of New Brunswick near the seacoast town of St. Johns, on March 6, 1880, he attended the grade school of his native village. There he resided with his parents until 1881. At the age of 21, he came west to Minneapolis, where he became a clerk in the dry goods store of Ziegler Bros., located on Nicollet avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets. His wages were $5 a week. His clerkship lasted three months and he went to railroad work as a passenger brakeman on a line between Minneapolis and Elroy. Three months on that job and he headed south to become a passenger brakeman on a line between Kansas City and Nickerson, Kans. In the spring of 1882 he returned north and at Brainerd took a job as a freight brakeman on the Northern Pacific. Those were the days of large turnover in employment, and after three months Brakeman Baxter was an "old timer" with the railroad and he frequently was assigned as head-end brakeman and his duty then was to acquaint new engineers with the physical features of the railroad. In November, 1883, he became a freight conductor.

"I didn't reckon well when I concluded at this time to return south," Mr. Baxter said. "I worked as a brakeman on two railroads that winter, but this was just subsequent to the raid by the Younger brothers and the James boys at Northfield, Minn. A Minnesotan just wasn't welcome and the Northfield raid somehow made a Minnesotan an undesirable citizen, so I came north again, but contracted typhoid and pneumonia. My physical condition when I had recovered would not permit me to take a job as vigorous as freight brakeman, so I applied to the Northern Pacific and went to work as a passenger brakeman in the spring of 1884, railroading between St. Paul-Minneapolis and Fargo."

Mr. Baxter continued to serve as a passenger brakeman until 1886. He then went back into freight service and was promoted to conductor in 1887. He ran freight until 1888, when he was promoted to the passenger service on a run between Little Falls and Morris. On that line he remained for six years. In July, 1894, he was called to St. Paul to take the run between St. Paul and Fargo, and for 35 years he has performed to that capacity for the Northern Pacific, running much of the time on the premier train, the North Coast Limited.

It has been said of Mr. Baxter that he knows personally virtually every person, including residents of towns and cities as well as farmers, who resides along the right of way of the railway company.

Mr. Baxter is local secretary of District No. 40 of the Order of Railway Conductors. In that capacity he serves 200 conductors whose runs bring them into the Twin Cities. He has served this organization for 27 years.

"Now that I have reached the age of 70 and my name will go on the pension rolls of the Northern Pacific, I do not intend to cease active work," Mr. Baxter said. "I believe many of us grow old rapidly when we cease work."

Much of my time will be taken up with the railway conductors' organization.

PNEUMONIA TAKES MRS. JAMES M. SHAW

Ill Only One Week; Leaves Husband, Two Children; Funeral Tomorrow

Mrs. James A. Shaw, 516 Norwood street, passed away at her home Sunday at 5:15 a. m. at the age of 52 years from pneumonia following an illness of one week.

Mrs. Shaw leaves besides her husband one son, Paul M., of Minneapolis and one daughter, Mrs. Merrill Horn who resides on a farm north of Pillager.

Active in work at the Adventist church Mrs. Shaw was also interested in civic welfare being in charge of the "Good Will" conducted in the basement of the Brainerd library for four years and closing four years ago.

She was born in Clayton, Wis., and married in Brainerd on May 1, 1900. Shortly after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Shaw moved to Wisconsin but returned to Minnesota to live for a number of years at Verdale. They have resided in Brainerd for the past ten years.

Funeral rites will be conducted Tuesday afternoon from the Adventist church. Interment will be at the Crow Wing cemetery.

Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society In Timely Suggestions

In order that your 1930 garden may be better than your 1929, the plans should be laid out before hand. Give the various details your careful attention, so that you may know exactly what must be done and what is needed before planting time arrives.

Whether your garden be large or small it is of the utmost importance to secure and to use the very best of seed. It certainly does not pay to waste good space and lose time that cannot be regained fussing around with poor seed.

Make out your order for glad bulbs now. Growers usually reward early orders with generous count and the best bulbs. Try a few new varieties this year. Some of our finest have now dropped in price so that they may be had by everyone.

The "best dozen" glads as selected by one of the foremost growers, E. Halsey Spencer, follows: 1. Minuet. 2. Catherine Coleman. 3. Mr. W. H. Phipps. 4. Marmora. 5. Betty Nuthall. 6. Golden Dream. 7. Dr. Bennett. 8. Giant Nymph. 9. Adame. 10. Longfellow. 11. Sweet Rose. 12. Mrs. F. C. Hornberger.

The following list is taken from a symposium of 64 well-known growers throughout the U. S. They represent the vote of the best for exhibition in each color class. The first is the best, regardless of price. The second, the best in moderate price.

Lavender—Minuet—Mrs. Peters. Purple—Rameses—Chas. Dickens. Violet—Blue Triumphator—Kirchoff's Violet. Red—Commander Koel—Crimson Glow. Scarlet—Pfitzer's Triumph—Dr. Bennett. Orange—Betty Nuthall—Marnia. Yellow—Golden Dream—Galden Measure. Cream—Madam Norena—Fern Kyle. White—Albatross—Marie Kunder. Rose Pink—Pride of Wankah—E. J. Shaylor. Light Pink—Coryphoe—Gertrude Errey. Salmon—Mr. W. H. Phipps—Catherine Coleman. Pure Pink—Pearl of Cal.—Longfellow.

Any other color—Marmora—Emile Auburn.

Growing the bulbets of the more expensive varieties is the cheapest way of getting a high class collection. Bulbets are cheap, easy to grow, take a very small amount of space and in two years produce a large bulb. Better try a few of the better varieties this year. Preparation and care will be given at planting time in this column.

TO PROMOTE TON LITTER CONTEST

Object is to Raise More Pigs Per Litter and Increased Weight

County Agent Roth has just received a letter from H. G. Zavoral, Extension Animal Husbandman, in regard to Ton Litter Contest. Crow Wing county should have a few contestants in this project.

The Ton Litter Contest is open to adults as well as 4-H club members.

The principal object of the Ton Litter contest is to raise more pigs per litter and produce them to marketable weight in six months. Ton Litter work involves every necessary step in swine raising, namely good breeding, proper feeding, good management, and knowledge of market prices and demands. Early pigs crowded for the early market have in the past brought considerably more money than those marketed late when the bulk of the hogs are sold. Fastest gaining pigs are usually the cheapest gaining pigs.

This is the fourth year for the Pork Production contest. The object of this contest is to demonstrate the most effective methods of breeding, feeding and management and to locate the most efficient producers. Only 4-H club members are required to keep ed that adults do likewise and record feed costs. However, it is recommended that all farmers keep records of feed costs. The basis of awards is books will be furnished for keeping strictly on the average number of pounds of pork produced per sow.

These contests are supported by the Minnesota Livestock Breeders Association and attractive premiums are offered. Last year's winner received $150 in cash and a gold watch. He said he would have made money if he had lost.

Mr. Peterson was born in Vondrug near Horsens, Denmark, March 18, 1880, and came to America in May 1881. He worked in Ohio from May 1881 to April 1882 and moved to Brainerd April 4, 1882. He started to work for the Northern Pacific in June 1882 on the section, two years as section hand and three years as foreman, to June 1887. Leaving the Northern Pacific he worked for Kendrick on the Mule Street Car to November 1887, five months and then returned to the Northern Pacific in November, 1887, first as a helper in the machine shops for three years and then transferred to the tank shop in 1890 as a helper. "I was in the Golden Spike Parade in 1883 and carried a spike maul. When the N. P. hospital burned for the first time in Brainerd in the eighties I was called out to help in the bucketbrigade, also helped carry out the sick. Was called out to a railroad wreck near Pillager when a cattle train ran into some cattle on the track. Three cattle cars were tipped over. There were some steers killed and others hurt and the trainmen shot some of the animals injured. When we arrived there were about 50 Indians assembled to help. They received some of the meat in payment for skinning the cattle."

Big kernels in small shells

In addition to the advertisements of the big department stores, of the grocery and hardware stores, of the millinery, clothing and shoe stores, there is another kind of advertising that is being read more and more by readers of this newspaper. That kind of advertising is the Classified Columns.

A man or woman wants a job. They read the "Help Wanted" columns and probably insert an advertisement of their own under "Positions Wanted." Employer and job seeker soon get together to the benefit of both. A man may want an automobile—possibly he cannot afford a new car, so he looks in the "For Sale" columns and finds just the car at the price he can afford to pay. Some one has lost a pocketbook, valuable papers or even a pet dog. The "Lost and Found" columns soon bring loser and finder together.

The Classified Columns are so arranged that any one can readily find what he seeks quickly—business news, machinery and tools, household goods, horses, dogs, cats, canaries, etc. They enable you to locate what you are looking for in short order. Mrs. Shaw leaves besides her husband one son, Paul M., of Minneapolis and one daughter, Mrs. Merrill Horn who resides on a farm north of Pillager.

Active in work at the Adventist church Mrs. Shaw was also interested in civic welfare being in charge of the "Good Will" conducted in the basement of the Brainerd library for four years and closing four years ago.

She was born in Clayton, Wis., and married in Brainerd on May 1, 1900. Shortly after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Shaw moved to Wisconsin but returned to Minnesota to live for a number of years at Verdala. They have resided in Brainerd for the past ten years.

Funeral rites will be conducted Tuesday afternoon from the Adventist church. Interment will be at the Crow Wing cemetery.

Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society In Timely Suggestions

In order that your 1936 garden may be better than your 1929, the plans should be laid out before hand. Give the various details your careful attention, so that you may know exactly what must be done and what is needed before planting time arrives.

Whether your garden be large or small it is of the utmost importance to secure and to use the very best of seed. It certainly does not pay to waste good space and lose time that cannot be regained fussing around with poor seed.

Make out your order for glad bulbs now. Growers usually reward early orders with generous count and the best bulbs. Try a few new varieties this year. Some of our finest have now dropped in price so that they may be had by everyone.

The "best dozen" glads as selected by one of the foremost growers, E. Halsey Spencer, follows: 1. Minuet. 2. Catherine Coleman. 3. Mr. W. H. Phipps. 4. Marmora. 5. Betty Nuthall. 6. Golden Dream. 7. Dr. Bennett. 8. Giant Nymph. 9. Affame. 10. Longfellow. 11. Sweet Rose. 12. Mrs. F. C. Hornberger.

The following list is taken from a symposium of 64 well-known growers throughout the U. S. They represent the vote of the best for exhibition in each color class. The first is the best regardless of price. The second, the best in moderate price.

Lavender—Minuet—Mrs. Peters. Purple—Rameses—Chas. Dickens. Violet—Blue Triumphator—Kirchoff's Violet.

Red—Commander Koel—Crimson Glow. Scarlet—Pfitzer's Triumph—Dr. Bennett.

Orange—Betty Nuthall—Marnia. Yellow—Golden Dream—Galden Measure.

Cream—Madam Norena—Fern Kyle. White—Albatross—Marie Kunderd. Rose Pink—Pride of Wankah—L. J. Shaylor.

Light Pink—Coryphoe—Gertrude Errey. Salmon—Mr. W. H. Phipps—Catherine Coleman.

Pure Pink—Pearl of Cal—Longfellow. Any other color—Marmora—Emile Auburn.

Growing the bulbets of the more expensive varieties is the cheapest way of getting a high class collection. Bulbets are cheap, easy to grow, take a very small amount of space and in two years produce a large bulb. Better try a few of the better varieties this year. Preparation and care will be given at planting time in this column.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORY OF TODAY

A visit to the postoffice this morning revealed the chirping of 1,000 baby chicks. It sounded just as though Uncle Sam had gone in the poultry business and box renters looked for eggs among their mail. It was a shipment of ten boxes, 100 chicks each, sent by the Brainerd hatchery to poultry men in the district. The baby chick industry is thriving and this represents but one of many shipments made.

TO PROMOTE TON LITTER CONTEST

Object is to Raise More Pigs Per Litter and Increased Weight

County Agent Roth has just received a letter from H. G. Zavoral, Extension Animal Husbandman, in regard to Ton Litter Contest. Crow Wing county should have a few contestants in this project.

The Ton Litter Contest is open to adults as well as 4-H club members.

The principal object of the Ton Litter contest is to raise more pigs per litter and produce them to marketable weight in six months. Ton Litter work involves every necessary step in swine raising, namely good breeding, proper feeding, good management, and knowledge of market prices and demands. Early pigs crowded for the early market have in the past brought considerably more money than those marketed late when the bulk of the hogs are sold. Fastest gaining pigs are usually the cheapest raising pigs.

This is the fourth year for the Pork Production contest. The object of this contest is to demonstrate the most effective methods of breeding, feeding and management and to locate the most efficient producers. Only 4-H club members are required to keep records that adults do likewise and record feed costs. However, it is recommended that the basis of awards is pounds of pork produced per sow.

These contests are supported by the Minnesota Livestock Breeders Association and attractive premiums are offered. Last year's winner received $150 in cash and a gold watch. He said he would have made money if he had lost.

TANK SHOP FOREMAN OF THE N. P. RETIRES

Andrew L. Peterson, 1407 East Oak Street Completes 47 Years of Service

HERE SINCE 1882

Participated in Golden Spike Parade in 1883, Helped Fight Hospital Fire

Andrew L. Peterson, 1407 East Oak street, was retired to the honor roll of pensioners of the Northern Pacific Railway Co. here today after many years of active service in the N. P. shops.

Mr. Peterson was born in Vronbrug near Horsens, Denmark, March 18, 1860, and came to America in May 1881. He worked in Ohio from May 1881 to April 1882 and moved to Brainerd April 4, 1882. He started to work for the Northern Pacific in June 1882 on the section, two years as section hand and three years as foreman, to June 1887. Leaving the Northern Pacific he worked for Kendrick on the Mule Street Car to November 1887, five months and then returned to the Northern Pacific in November, 1887, first as a helper in the machine shops for three years and then transferred to the tank shop in 1890 as a helper. In 1893 he was promoted to tank shop foreman continuing to date, making 47 years and four months of service.

Recalling some of his experiences Mr. Peterson said today:

"I was in the Golden Spike Parade in 1883 and carried a spike mail. When the N. P. hospital burned for the first time in Brainerd in the eighties I was called out to help in the bucketbrigade, also helped carry out the sick. Was called out to a railroad wreck near Pillager when a cattle train ran into some cattle on the track. Three cattle cars were tipped over. There were some steers killed and others hurt and the trainmen shot some of the animals injured. When we arrived there were about 50 Indians assembled to help. They received some of the meat in payment for skinning the cattle."

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—(U.P.)—Roy Haward, 70, negro, was burned to death today and a second man seriously burned, in a week end total of 108 fires. The fire total for March reached 528, the highest figure in the history of the city.

REV. HOSTAGER GETS RADIO RECEPTION

A large number of Brainerd citizens heard Rev. M. L. Hostager, formerly of this city, now of Superior, Wis., speak over radio station WEDC Duluth and Superior at 9 o'clock this morning. He spoke in the Norwegian language and those who heard him stated his voice was very clear and sounded the same as when he was pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran church here. The service was impressive and his old friends were glad of an opportunity of hearing him again.

A choir of 40 voices from his church sang in the English language. One member of the choir gave a Norwegian hymn "Den Store Vidé Flok" accompanied by the choir.

Several from Brainerd sent telegrams to Rev. Hostager requesting him to come on the air again in the near future. Rev. Hostager is a brother of Louis Hostager.

Big kernels in small shells

In addition to the advertisements of the big department stores, of the grocery and hardware stores, of the millinery, clothing and shoe stores, there is another kind of advertising that is being read more and more by readers of this newspaper. That kind of advertising is the Classified Columns.

A man or woman wants a job. They read the "Help Wanted" columns and probably insert an advertisement of their own under "Positions Wanted." Employer and job seeker soon get together to the benefit of both. A man may want an automobile—possibly he cannot afford a new car, so he looks in the "For Sale" columns and finds just the car at the price he can afford to pay. Some one has lost a pocketbook, valuable papers or even a pet dog. The "Lost and Found" columns soon bring loser and finder together.

The Classified Columns are so arranged that any one can readily find what he seeks quickly—business news, machinery and tools, household goods, horses, dogs, cats, canaries, etc. They enable you to locate what you are looking for in short order. So in reading advertising do not overlook the classified columns—the individual advertisements do not take up much room, but like the meaty nut they may contain a big kernel in a small shell—just for you.

Read the advertisements for your own good . . . classified columns . . .

"MASTER of MONEY"

BY ROY VICKERS

CHAPTER XLIV.
"LOCK up that ridge," he told her. "That's where they showed themselves. They're riding away now to come through the track we made to get into the camp from that end—that's where I intended to have the machine-guns. There's another defile at the west. I tell you, in this position we could hold off a force—oh, what's the good of talking! I betted on their not coming so soon."

"Suppose Maurois sent them," suggested Shirley. "He knows a lot of them. He may have passed the word."

"That's a bit of an idea," he agreed. "We'll see. Here they come."

As he spoke she saw the leader come at a trot round the bend, followed by his men.

"What will they do with us, Alan?"

"I don't know. They may come to terms—they may cut our throats."

The comitadj were riding through the camp, making straight for Alan's shack.

"They're going to talk or they would have shot at us by now," he told her. "Everything depends on how the talk goes."

The men, in every description of dress from Greek to shabby European, now filled the clearing in front of the shack and were dismounting.

"Just what I thought," said Alan. "It's sheer poverty that drives them into this game for the most part. Look at those horses—and the men themselves look as if they were starving."

He had spoken within hearing of the leader, who was advancing upon them.

"You're quite right there, Mr. Brennaway," said the leader. "But we shan't be so poor by the time we've done with you."

"And where the devil did you pick up English?" asked Alan with a laugh.

"With the Army," said the man. "I had six caiques during the war—used to be up at headquarters every day."

The men, exhausted by their riding through the night, had tethered their horses and were squatting down, some of them smoking.

"Well, now, what do you think you're going to get out of this?" Alan demanded. "I've got about a thousand francs here. I suppose you've got fifty men with you, haven't you? That works out at twenty francs apiece, assuming you divide with them."

"That's worth having on account," said the leader. "But you're a rich man, Mr. Brennaway. You can sign a check on the Ottoman bank."

In three years of daily dealing with officers at headquarters, the man had acquired a certain respectfulness of manner which Alan was quick to notice. Shirley saw him glancing critically at the members of the gang.

"What's your name?" he rapped out.

"Andreas Abramovel."

"Well, Abramovel, you seem to have dealt with my countrymen and you know we aren't quite fools. If I buy you off with a sheek, there's nothing to prevent your coming here tomorrow for another."

"I've got the men here, Mr. Brennaway. That's what they're here for—they're got to have something or I can't get them away."

"I'm not going to pay you to go—but I'll tell you what I'll do—I'll pay you to stay," said Alan. "You've earned regular money before now and you know it works out much better than this bandit game. I'm paying my gang ten francs a day and all their food—as much food as they can eat."

"I'll pay your fellows just the same for working with the gang—and I'll give them another ten francs a day to stay by with their rifles and keep off any other bands of comitadj that turn up. You'll draw double that as leader, and there will be a bonus on the amount of work done, and special arrangements if there's any fighting."

"That's all right, sir," cut in Abramovel. "But your offer wouldn't last more than a week. There's Stephanos—he's got a hundred men—more than that, maybe—and they're all well armed. And he'll be along here as soon as he's assembled—call it a week."

For a moment Alan was silent, and then:

"If they don't?" she suggested.

"If they don't I shall give in to their terms—because you are here," he answered savagely.

For half an hour they waited, then the leader came towards the shack.

"It's no good, Mr. Brennaway," he said apologetically.

"Don't be a fool, Abramovel," said Alan sharply. "What good would it do you to kill us? You'll get that thousand francs and no more—that's only one day's money."

"That's all right, sir," cut in Abramovel. "But your offer wouldn't last more than a week. There's Stephanos—he's got a hundred men—more than that, maybe—and they're all well armed. And he'll be along here as soon as he's assembled—call it a week."
